A FREE PRESS

Newspapers have been called the Universities of the People and this is rightly so. The free press is the most important source of political education and without it a democracy cannot function. The free press is the most visible reminder of the freedom of individual expression. The responsibility of the press is great. As long as our daily and weekly newspapers survive, as a free press, our nation will survive as a free United States.

October 14 through 20 is National Newspaper Week. This is the week when the nation is reminded that freedom of speech is theirs — every newspaper is visual proof.

Mandatory Statewide Testing Of Students Will Begin This Month

Just how well local students have learned reading, writing and arithmetic will be determined when all 5th, 8th and 11th graders begin taking mandatory statewide tests next week.

When the tests have been completed and the results tabulated, every district in the state will be able to compare its progress with that of the state as a whole. It will be the first time California will have reliable statewide figures on student performance.

In the Albany schools, the tests will be given to the elementary students from October 15 to October 30; to the Albany High School students October 30, 31 and November 1. Norman Cathcart, Albany school psychologist, will be directly responsible for the administration of the testing program. The results of the tests will be forwarded to the County Superintendent of Schools and he will send them to the State Department of Education.

In addition to the State required tests, all Albany school children from the 3rd grade through the 8th grade will be given achievement tests in work study skills, reading, arithmetic, and language.

The Albany School Administration has arranged to have the high school testing given in the Veterans' Memorial Building so that the regular class room program of the high school will be uninterrupted.

The new California program, ordered by the State Legislature last year and the first of its kind in the Nation, will test more than 700,000 youngsters during this year's inaugural four-week testing period.

Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, said in Sacramento that students will be examined for intelligence, reading, arithmetic and language.

Every effort will be made to complete computation of results before the testing program moves into its second year in the fall of 1963.

Under the legislation setting up the program, the State Department of Education cannot disclose scores on a district basis unless written permission is obtained from the local school board. However, Dr. Simpson said, school administrators are required to report ratings to their governing boards at least annually and at a public meeting.

Resolution No. 6262 confirming the appointment of Mrs. Max Klemm as a member of the Library Board was introduced by Councilman Joseph Egenberger and was adopted unanimously.

The appointment of Louis Tripodi on the Civil Service Board was made by Vice-Mayor Lewis Howell.

Council adjourned at 8:30 p.m.

EMPLOYMENT in the Bay Area rose to an all-time high of 1,209,600 in the month of September.

Carlevaro Named Albany Campaign Manager By Governor Edmund Brown

Counslman Joe Carlevaro has been named by Governor Edmund G. Brown to direct his reelection campaign in Albany.

Carlevaro, former mayor and Albany son, will stress Brown's outstanding record as Governor for the past four years and his plan to keep California moving forward as it becomes the nation's most populous state.

An Albany businessman since 1939, Carlevaro will bring his long experience in community history and the first reorganization of California government in 30 years.

Well known for his long time active participation in city affairs, Carlevaro represented the city in the Alameda County Mayors' Conference.

Within this organization, he served on the State Tidelands Legislation Committee which promoted legislation on behalf of Albany to permit the use of State conveyed tidelands for purposes other than navigation and commerce. The groundwork of this committee resulted in the Tidelands Usage Bill being signed into law.

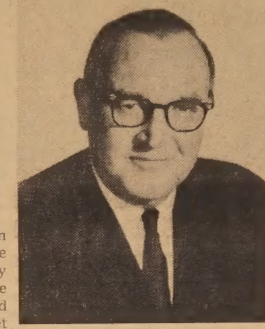

Carlevaro also served on the Home Rule Committee which brought closer liaison between bay area cities and state legisla-service into use in the Brown campaign. He will emphasize the Governor's achievements in many vital areas. "While holding the line against tax increases and maintaining a balanced budget for three successive years, Brown has created the healthiest business climate in state history," Carlevaro stated.

"The Brown administration," says Carlevaro, "has provided higher pensions for the aged and a ban on job discrimination because of age. During his term the state has seen the construction of 6,000 new classrooms bringing California to top educational standing in the nation. He has instituted more realistic unemployment benefits, the toughest narcotics laws in the state's ors by emphasizing home rule and local responsibility relating to legislation affecting cities.

Along with his current duties as councilman, he is representative to the Association of Bay Area Governments and liaison officer to the Public Works Department.

Carlevaro firmly believes that citizens fully aware of the experience, achievements and program of the incumbent Governor will work and vote to maintain California at its present high level of progressive, responsible government.

Jenny Finds 'Another' Snake

"How much does it cost to put an ad in the lost and found?" asked Wendy Polivka, of 1502 Washington. Jenny Knight, 1037 Curtis, Jo Ellen Arnold, 1058 Ramona and Susan Williams, 1080 Peralta, at the Times, Thursday afternoon, October 4.

They were asked what they had lost. "Oh, we didn't lose anything. We found a snake," said Jenny.

The girls went out the door and returned with a four foot King snake. "Jenny is always finding snakes," one of the girls explained. They stood there, four snake charmers, with the viciously charmed snake coiled around their necks and hands. "We found it in the steps of the Albany Pool, a sun bath. It must be body's pet because it is so friendly," the girls said, as they affectionately stroked its length. It had enough length so every girl had a section to stroke.

When it was explained that it wouldn't appear for the week and then it might be time before the snake was released, they had a conference whose house would give for the friendliest recent decided there would be welcome at each of the homes.

The girls accepted the notion that the police take of the lost snake. After a DO handle lost children

Patrolman Clinton armed with a box, responded the call and after assuring dy, Jenny, Jo Ellen and that the snake would be with kindness, took it to a shelter at the Berkeley mane Society.

Art Exhibit By Mary Roff At Albany Library

A new group of paintings on display at the Albany Public Library are the work of Mary Roff, Albany artist.

Today's children are the subject of most of these oils. Yet they convey a political or philosophical message. Just as most of the Nursery Rhymes still alive today were conceived as political allegories significant in their time, so these allegorical oils carry the painter's comments on contemporary life. Such titles as "The New Frontier", "Multiple Choice", "Isquierdo" (the political left) indicate the intention of the artist.

The exhibit will be on display through October 15.

HUNTERS ATTENTION. The northeastern portion of the state will have a straight 75-day waterfowl season opening at noon Saturday, October 20, and continuing through Wednesday, January 2.

(save plenty wampum this winter)

Almost every home "leaks" heat—honest Injun! ■ Some heat slips through loose-fitting doors and windows. About 16% is lost through window glass. And up to 45% escapes through uninsulated ceilings! ■ By weather-stripping and insulating now, you can prevent much of your heat loss during the winter months ahead. By keeping drapes drawn and the fireplace damper closed, you can stop still more heat loss. ■ This way you'll have a warm, wonderful wigwam every winter... and save heating dollars, too.

Kathie Zahn Announces Candidacy

Mrs. Kathie S. Zahn of 911 Santa Fe Avenue, Albany, became a candidate for "Director at Large" with the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District in the November 6, 1962 general election. Mrs. Zahn, a graduate of Dr. Pepper's Private Girls College, the former Free City of Danville, had a general classical education with particular emphasis on languages. She has resided in Albany for 33 years; is a property owner and has raised a family of three children. Her husband was the late Dr. Victor Zahn, a noted research chemist at the Shell Development Company in Emeryville before his death in 1956.

Mrs. Zahn served 10 years as a Councilwoman in Albany, holding office in 1950, and was Albany's Mayor during her final year in 1960. She has been active in transportation for many years, and at one time was considered for appointment as Director for the Board of the Albany Area Rapid Transit District. She rejected the consideration when she learned, that by accepting, she would be forced to resign from the Albany City Council.

Mrs. Zahn has carried on a newwoman campaign against the former Key System since 1938. Known to the East Bay in those days as "the public-spirited citizen from Albany," she has many accomplishments to her credit.

In 1944, when Key System officials insisted that, because of the war, they were UNABLE to get new equipment to replace the old buses, and NO parts to repair broken ones; that they could not hire the needed help because of unavailable housing etc., she went to Washington, D.C. and held a series of public transportation conferences with representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation, War Production Board, War Labor Board and the Executive Committee of the President's Committee for Longest Areas. Because of her persistent plea she was able to secure for Key System new motor coaches and parts for the repair of the broken down equipment with immediate delivery.

In May 1944 in another move to secure better transportation service throughout the East Bay, she appealed to the National Housing Agency Regional Office that "certain family dwelling units be set aside in the Albany Federal Housing Project" to assist Key System in recruiting additional needed workers, when it was established that people were willing to work for Key System but had no place to live.

On May 27, 1944 in a letter under the signature of Eugene Wesley Jr., of the National Housing Agency, Mrs. Zahn was informed that "25 family units in the Albany Federal Housing Project were set aside immediately for Key System and that more would be made available, if it would show that public transportation facilities in the East Bay had improved by this action."

In August 1944 she appeared at the hearing before the Regional War Labor Board urging the granting of the requested equal wages" for Key System mechanics. The Board approved the increase.

In November 1946 she filed a "Formal Complaint" with the California State Public Utilities Commission asking that Key System be required to "erect a shelter" at 40th Street and San Pablo Avenue in Emeryville to protect patrons from the inclement weather.

On January 15, 1947 Mrs. Zahn and the Public Utilities Commission were informed by Key System, that they would comply with the request and erect the passenger shelter.

Over the years, she was a constant attendant and active participant at Key System Commute Rate hearings. Identifying herself as Kathie Zahn, a housewife, she frequently took her grievances for better transportation in the form of "formal complaints" directly to the California State Public Utilities Commission. In her capacity as Councilwoman, she represented Albany as a member of "The East Bay Cities Committee for Investigation of Key System" and took a very active part in trying to help settle the prolonged strike that started in July 1953. She appeared before the Directors of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District urging them to reduce the fares for children between the age of 13 and 16 on San Francisco buses. On April 18, 1962, the lower rates were approved. The result is that children between the ages of 13 and 16 years now riding from Albany, Berkeley, Piedmont, Oakland, Alameda to and from San Francisco pay only "20 cents instead of the former 50 cents per trip", and from Hayward instead of the "former 70 cents only 25 cents per trip", thereby making a saving of 60 cents from Albany and 90 cents from Hayward on a round trip.

As far as Albany is concerned — (a) she fought for better buses and service on the San Francisco "G-line" ever since its inception.

(b) In 1956 she was instrumental in getting the former No. 88 bus, now known as No. 43A coach line "all the way down Solano Avenue to San Pablo Avenue." Later on she succeeded in getting the extension from San Pablo Avenue via Albany Hill for the convenience of the people living in the Hill area.

(c) It was Mrs. Zahn's single handed efforts that brought the "F-bus" into Albany during the hours of 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. on a half hourly basis Monday through Friday (March 9, 1959). Previously, Albany passengers had to transfer to San Francisco-bound buses in Emeryville during off-peak hours.

(d) In 1961 she appeared at various times before the Board of Directors of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District and requested the Board to provide "direct" service between Albany and San Francisco on the "F-line" during the evening and night hours, and "direct" service between Albany and San Francisco on the "F-line" during the day-time on Saturdays. At that time people wanting to go between Albany and San Francisco during evening or night hours and Saturdays had to transfer to the No. 43 or 43A bus to reach on F-line.

In August 1961 the Board of Directors of the Transit District granted Mrs. Zahn's request for direct Saturday and direct evening and night service to and from Albany and San Francisco on the F-line.

In a prepared statement Mrs. Zahn said: "I believe that my past experience in transportation matters qualifies me to serve the public as a director for the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. If elected, I will work diligently

(a) for reduced fares for "Senior Citizens" during off-peak hours;

(b) for a "5 cents shuttle bus service", similar to the one in San Francisco between 10 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., along business areas in cities within the District, where such service is requested in order to help business and for the convenience of the shopper;

(c) for benches in the upper part of the San Francisco Terminal to accommodate the waiting public.

Since I am under no obligation to anyone, if elected, I will not be influenced in my actions by anything, except the desire to do a good job.

I shall try to be fair to all interests and willing to listen to all citizens and groups of citizens, and give their problems careful and earnest consideration." Mrs. Kathie Zahn

Flower Arranging
At Night School

Two day classes in Flower Arranging and Design, both taught by Mrs. Doris Munster, for many years floral decorator for the Hotel Claremont, and both open to the enrollment of those residing in or out of Albany, are being offered by the Albany Adult Education Center. The course is so planned that it will be of interest to beginners as well as to those who have studied in this area.

The classes, until the close of the fall quarter in December, will emphasize holiday decorations and seasonal themes that are in harmony with the interior decoration and general decor of the home, clubroom, hall, church or other building for which the arrangements are intended.

Students will have the opportunity, not only to create both dry and fresh eye-catching arrangements for table settings, mantles, buffets, wedding and receptions, but also, if interested, to learn display techniques for clubs, homes and restaurants and also to make several types of corsages.

The instructor stresses the use of readily-available materials, containers and holders in the arrangement of flowers, leaves, rocks, figurines, weeds and varied dry materials.

One of Mrs. Munster's two classes is held at the Albany High School building, 603 Key Route Blvd., on Wednesday afternoons, 1:30 to 4:30; the second, Friday mornings, 9 to 12, at Marin School, 1400 Marin Avenue.

BAYVIEW EAGLES AUXILIARY 2323 met Tuesday, October 9, at 8 p.m. at Eagles Hall, 3232 Carlson Blvd., with President Kathryn Hightman presiding. Final plans for the forthcoming rummage sale, to be held October 30, were made according to Lola Astord, general chairman. Members and friends are asked to contact Mrs. Astord at LA 5-6019 for any rummage articles they wish to be picked up.
